STRABAN HAS A MAD DOG SCARE

Residents Living Short Distance East of Town Alarmed over Presence of Rabid Canine. Several Dogs Killed.

Straban township is the scene of the latest mad dog scare. It occurred Thursday, a dog answering very much the same general description as that which visited Round Top and Two Taverns last week, causing the alarm.

The animal was first seen on Wednesday. It is described as a rather large black dog with long shaggy hair. The animal seemed to be acting in a rather suspicious manner but no effort was made to kill it. Thursday morning it was noticed east of town running along with its head down and people, who saw it with their dogs, have tied their own animals.

Thursday evening it appeared at the home of Miss Mary Shealer, in Straban township, frothing at the mouth and with its head close to the ground. Two dogs belonging to Miss Shealer were bitten and they have been killed. The animal went on in the direction of Hunterstown but nothing more has been heard of it.

An effort is being made to apprise all farmers in that neighborhood of the presence of the rabid canine and all dogs which may have come in contact with the dangerous beast will be closely watched.

Miss Laura Wolford has gone to Biglerville for some time.

William J. Noel, who is taking orders for the five and ten cent store of Littlestown, spent Tuesday afternoon in this place.

WANTS SOLDIERS' MONUMENT

Petitions are now being circulated for signatures which will be submitted to the judges of the next Fulton county court of quarter sessions with a view to the erection of a soldiers' monument in McConnellsburg.

In the petitions it is represented that there is now $140 in the hands of the treasurer of the soldiers' monument fund to be applied to the erection of a suitable memorial to the defenders of the union, and in order that the purpose may be consummated legal steps are to be taken to that end.

LIKE SMALL BOYS

Some Dickinson college students on the gallery of the opera house Wednesday evening must have thought they were in some back woods from their outrageous, silly conduct. They hooted and whistled and did as they pleased until House Policeman Sharpe showed one of the "gents" the door to the street. Then it was awfully quiet. —Carlisle Sentinel.

SCULPTOR FOR MONUMENT HERE

Sculptor of Virginia Monument Spends Several Days here Going over Ground. Original Design to be Changed Somewhat.

F. William Sievers, sculptor for the new Virginia monument, after spending several days here has returned home. The original design for the memorial is to be changed somewhat.

The monument by the original design, will be surmounted by an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee and this feature will remain unchanged. General Lee is portrayed as surveying the enemy's reinforcements beyond the rear line of battle, his expression in accord with his well known character. The height of this portion of the monument will be 14 feet.

The original design provided for a memorial whose total height would be 42 feet. The Virginia Commission, however, is said to deem this too high for the width of the pedestal and it will likely be reduced somewhat. It is also said that the base will likely be considerably modified.

Three groups of figures were provided for in the original design, a group of artillerymen and one of infantry being on either side. In front was a group intended to indicate peace. It is said that all three of these are to be eliminated and that a group of statuary for the front of the memorial will be substituted.

Mr. Sievers spent several days here viewing the location along West Confederate avenue and taking in other parts of the field. He is now working on the changes proposed by the Commission which will change materially the original plans for the memorial but which are not expected to mar the beauty of the design which is severely simple to conform to the unostentatious character of General Lee.

IMPROVEMENTS

Gettysburg people are keeping up the work of improvements which was so noticeable in this place last year.

H. J. Brinkerhoff has had a number of changes made to his home on Baltimore street. The interior has been remodeled and other improvements made.

Charles Lady has had a number of conveniences installed in his home on Baltimore street.

W. A. Taughinbaugh has had the home on York street, which he bought about a year ago and which he is now occupying, much improved. The home has been repapered throughout and modern conveniences installed.

Miss Sadie Schriver is having a stable built in the rear of the double house recently erected by her on York street. The stable is now under roof.

Numerous improvements are now in course of completion in the Hotel Gettysburg. Mention was made in these columns some time ago that such improvements were contemplated.

DEAD CROWS

Cumberland county farmers are puzzling over the possible cause of the death of so many crows in their fields by the dozen during the past week or ten days.

A man driving through the country noticed a lot of birds in the fields and he got out of his buggy, climbed into a field and examined some of the dead crows to satisfy his own curiosity. The crows seemed fat enough and there were no evidences of bullets or slug shots. The number of them precluded the idea that they had been shot too, for they were scattered all over the fields.

A couple of farmers said they could not account for it unless the crows had been frozen to death. They also advanced the theory that the birds were poisoned.

FIGHT AGAINST GERMS

Instructions recently received from the Post Office Department by Postmaster McIlhenny, put into effect a reform in the delivery of postage stamps to purchasers.

By the new ruling the clerks must hand the stamp or purchasers in such a manner that the gummed surface will not come in contact with the base of the stamp window.

The purpose of the reform is to prevent possible infection through the licking of stamps.

DISPOSED OF ALL PROPERTY

Will of Mrs. Jeremiah Bream, Late of Huntington Township, Disposes of all her Furniture and Much Clothing.

The will of Mrs. Jeremiah Bream, late of Huntington township, was probated in the office of Register and Recorder Appler on Thursday and, on account of its minuteness of detail, proves to be one of the most interesting documents of that kind which has appeared in the Court House for some time.

Her money, which was deposited in two of Gettysburg's financial institutions, is divided in $5.00, $10.00 and $20.00 sums to her children and brothers and sisters. The will also declares that the residue of the estate is to be divided among her brothers and sisters.

To one of those mentioned in her will is given her "best black dress," to another "my cherry table," to another "my feather bed and pillows," to a fourth the washstand with wash bowl and pitcher, to a fifth "my yellow chest." Another gets a rocking chair, others are given other chairs designated while others are bequeathed dishes or various articles of wearing apparel.

The document is made up of nineteen articles and apparently mentions everything which Mrs. Bream considered was of any value whatever. George Snick is named as the executor of the estate.

Orchard Demonstrations

Representatives of the division of zoology of the state agricultural department will conduct public demonstrations with regard to the methods to be followed in the care of trees at the orchards of Mrs. C. N. Weaver, New Oxford, April 6 and 7, and R. H. Lupp, Biglerville, April 8 and 9. A section of each orchard has been set aside as a permanent model orchard and at the forthcoming demonstrations trees will be pruned, sprayed and perhaps planted, insect pests and fungus diseases identified, different types of apparatus shown and lectures delivered and questions answered.

Everybody interested in fruit culture and in saving the trees from injury, whether by insects or diseases, should attend the meeting, and, also, take with him specimens of pests for identification. It is announced that any questions asked as to such pests and on orchard management will be cheerfully answered.

After the blossoms have fallen from the trees there will be other meetings in the same orchards to show the public how to destroy the codling moth which have so much to do with stunted fruit; and in the fall at the time of the picking of the fruit there will be still another meeting so that the progress made by the orchards may be marked and the persons who attended the other meetings may observe the results.

In addition to the public demonstration orchards there are personal supervision orchards throughout the county whose owners have agreed to follow the instructions of the division of zoology.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin

DREADNAUGHT CARS

The nub of railroading is first-class equipment and reliable service. The Pennsylvania Railroad provides this for the public. For many months big all-steel coaches, built like Dreadnaughts, have been operated on all through trains. Their easy-riding qualities and steadiness of motion have been widely praised. The all-steel dining cars too have distinct advantage over the wooden ones. They are stronger and steeper, and the act of eating is made more enjoyable by the smoother movement.

There are also some steel Pullman Cars—Combined Parlor—Smoker and Baggage—in the service now. Travelers like them. They have plenty of elbow room and they glide over the rails. The Sleeping Cars are coming. Some four hundred parlor and sleeping cars will be in use by summer.

These steel coaches and cars are the strongest vehicles ever built for passenger transportation. They are fire proof, break proof and bend proof. They represent the climax of safety and the perfection of comfort in railroad travel.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has always been the leader in all manner of improved equipment as well as in all methods of making their patrons more comfortable. This is why it is known and honored as The Standard Railroad of America.

Famous Advocate of Men's Apparel For Women.

WOMAN MAY DRESS AS MAN

Albany, N. Y., March 18.—Dr. Mary Walker, who for years has worn male attire, is the author of a bill introduced by Assemblyman Sweet.

It provides that a woman shall not be sufficiently disguised by reason of the style of her dress or clothing to warrant arrest, and that any peace officer who shall arrest a woman not guilty of any crime by reason of the style of her clothing, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned.

2 DEAD, 2 MISSING AFTER BEER PARTIES

Bodies Taken From River; Searching For Companions.

Norristown, Pa., March 18.—As the result of two strange drinking bouts along the shore of the Schuylkill river at this place two men were drowned and two others are missing. The case is one of the most remarkable of the officials here have known.

The bodies of the drowned men have been recovered. They are Andrew McClain and William Quigg, his brother-in-law.

McClain, Coroner King finds, had been drinking with another man and a woman. When the woman had out drunk and left them asleep on the banks of the Schuylkill she wandered up the tow path. Near De Kalk street she met Quigg and two other men. There was another drinking bout, in which the men proved the least able to survive, and the woman left them also asleep on the shore.

McClain's funeral was held Thursday. The absence of his relative, Quigg was the occasion of comment. It reached the ears of the police, who in their investigation learned that boys while fishing had found a hat. This was identified as Quigg's. It was decided to drag the river, with the result that the body of the missing man was recovered.

As the other two men, who were the later companions of Quigg and the woman, are missing, the river is also being dragged for their bodies. Thomas Cooper, who was with McClain and the woman in the first beer party, was arrested on the suspicion that he might have thrown McClain into the river. He was sent to jail pending the investigation which is being prosecuted.

DIPLOMAT ASSAULTED

Minister Knowles Assaulted in Santo Domingo.

Washington, March 18.—Horace G. Knowles, of Wilmington, Del., American minister to Santo Domingo, was assaulted last Sunday while out riding by Senor Castillo, a brother of the governor of the province. He reported the incident to the state department. The authorities of Santo Domingo say that the assailant is a deranged man. He has been arrested.

All the ministers of the Dominican government, Mr. Knowles said, called at the legation personally to express regret at the affair. Mr. Knowles thinks the assault was without political significance.

There was no serious opposition to the present government, the dispatch added.

No Hope of Tariff Agreement.

Washington, March 18.—There is reason to believe that the state department officials have practically abandoned hope of any adjustment of the tariff differences between the United States and Canada, and believe that it is altogether probable that the maximum rates of the Payne-Aldrich act will go into operation against that country automatically in two weeks.

Chinaman Strikes It Rich.

Auburn, Cal., March 18.—Ah Kai, a Chinaman, has just cleaned up $204,290 in gold from a gravel pit at You Bet, just across the Bear river from Dutch Flat. TAFT DEFENDS RAILROAD BILL

Declares He Wants Law Fair to Carriers.

WOULD PUNISH VIOLATORS

The President Pays His Respects to Newspaper Correspondents Who Send Out News to Suit Their Own Views.

Chicago, March 18.—"I am not afraid of the people of the United States. They are fair, and when you go to them and present to them the facts and invite them to do justice they will do justice. The trouble is in getting them the facts."

So spoke President Taft in an address to the Traffic club, of Chicago. "I should feel a coward if I hesitated to say that in recommending legislation I consult every interest, and when an interest presents an argument that I think fair, yield to it," he added.

In an address to the Chicago Newspaper club the president condemned what he called the statesmen correspondents at Washington, who, he said, send out news suited to their own views.

Mr. Taft said he was glad to know that the public is beginning to discriminate with reference to news.

Speaks at Traffic Club.

The president, acknowledging the election to honorary membership in the Traffic club, said before that body: "I am very glad you elected me before the next interstate commerce bill has become a law. I am not sure whether I would not have listened with a good deal more tremor and fear to the inquiry as to how many voted 'no.'"

"It seems to be in the minds of some gentlemen in responsibility that the people who are to be consulted are not those directly affected; that if in the recommendation of legislation affecting railroads you venture to consult railroad men that it is enough to condemn all the legislation which you recommended. I am ready to condemn railroads when they violate the law. I am ready to pass laws that will so regulate commerce as to make all things equal."

"But every man is entitled to his day in court, and I should feel a coward if I hesitated to say that in recommending legislation I consult every interest, and when an interest presents an argument that I think fair, yield to it."

"I am not afraid of the people of the United States. They are fair, and when you go to them and present to them the facts and invite them to do justice, they will do justice. The trouble is in getting to them the facts. Now, gentlemen, I didn't mean to say this exactly, but I have said it, and I mean it."

Fair Play For Railroads.

"Time was in this country when it was most difficult for any railroad man to conduct his business within the law. I worked to bring it about so that he may conduct his business within the law, and so that the law shall be fair, but so that he shall be made to feel the penalty of the law when he steps outside of it."

"I believe there is a course and I believe there is legislation we may have that will bring that about, and I hope that I always may be able, no matter what the result to me, to do justice between the great interests of this country, the people, the shippers and the railroads; that business may go on, that we shall all be within the law and that every man shall see that it is to his ultimate advantage to uphold that law and preserve it and make it inviolate."

Mr. Taft's remarks were greeted with prolonged applause by the members of the club.

At the Newspaper club the president received an album of photographs of himself, taken on his previous visit to the city. A huge harp made of shamrocks from Ireland was another gift from an individual.

Babies In Demand In New Orleans.

New Orleans, March 18.—The demand for babies here has reached such a proportion that it is feared there will be a serious shortage in the supply. A carload of babies from the New York Foundling and Orphan Asylum were given away here last week. Many women clamored in vain. The institution will send another carload.

SOUR STOMACH

"I used Cascarets and feel like a new man. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia and sour stomach for the last two years. I have been taking medicine and other drugs, but could find no relief only for a short time. I will recommend Cascarets to my friends as the only thing for indigestion and sour stomach and to keep the bowels in good condition. They are very nice to eat."

Corn Meal for the Hair

A young lady dropped into the parlors of a Fifth Avenue hair specialist the other day, says The Beauty Magazine. The Frenchwoman in charge condescended to tell some of the secrets of the profession. "My peppercorn treatment is the most successful I know in vogue," she said. "The hair is taken down, shaken out and wet with gasoline. It dries quickly, and when put up is found free from grease and dirt. The gasoline should be used with the greatest care and never at night or in presence of a lighted gas jet or lamp. It takes a very few drops, the quantity depending on the color and the texture of the hair. With blond hair I follow this up with the cornmeal-brushing, a very coarse grade of yellow cornmeal being rubbed on the hair and then carefully brushed out. It is astonishing to see how fluffy the hair appears after this treatment, and for days it remains in position, requiring no pins, puffs or braids." Asked what was the secret and best home preparation for keeping the hair healthy and restoring prematurely gray hair to its natural color, "Madame" spoke very highly of the corn meal and hair food known as HAY'S HAIR HEALTH. This preparation has been on the market over twenty years and can be found at all good drug stores at 50-cent and dollar bottles. Its great success comes from the fact that it nourishes the roots of the hair.

PACKERS' $15,000,000 LOAN

History of How National Co. Was Organized Told Grand Jury.

Chicago, March 18.—The history of the loan of $15,000,000 which made possible the organization of the National Packing company was told to the federal grand jury by Louis C. Krauthoff, of New York, formerly general counsel for that company.

Details of the organization of the big packing concern were told by Mr. Krauthoff, who explained how three of the leading Chicago packers borrowed the $15,000,000, thus enabling them to buy up a number of similar companies. He told of negotiating with the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. for the loan, part of the money on which was furnished by the City National and the First National banks, of New York.

SAVE TWO LIVES BY CIRCUS TRICK

Firemen, Hanging by Knees, Swings Them to Safety.

New York, March 18.—Two heroic firemen, one swinging by his legs from a fire escape, three stories above the sidewalk, the other suspended in the same manner from a ladder, saved a man and his wife from impending death in a fire in First street.

The fire was burning so fiercely by the time the firemen arrived that escape from the building was cut off. Andrew Mitchell and his wife were on the third floor. Fire ladders were run to the window, and fireman Mooney ran up and seized Mrs. Mitchell, who weighs 200 pounds. The ladder bent almost to breaking when Mooney tried to carry the woman to the ground, and he was compelled to give up the attempt.

Fireman Bogel wrapped a tarpaulin around himself, and ran up the blazing stairway to the room. He went to the window and leaped across to the fire escape on the building adjoining. He quickly lowered himself and, swinging by his legs, called to Mooney to hand over the woman.

Mooney got Mrs. Mitchell to the window and, hanging by his legs, he caught her by the wrists and began swinging her back and forth. Bogel then caught the woman by the arms and was able to hold her until firemen below took her from him. Then Mr. Mitchell was rescued in the same way.

Free Dyspepsia Sample

Sufferers from indigestion are waking up to the fact that peppermint lozenges, charcoal and "dyspepsia cures" are only makeshifts in the cure of so troublesome a complaint as chronic indigestion. What is required is something that will not only relieve but which will tone and train the digestive apparatus to again do its work normally, and these simple remedies cannot do.

There is something more to the cure of indigestion than sweetening the breath, and yet a remedy that only contains digestive ingredients will not cure permanently, as the basis of indigestion is poor bowel circulation, and that requires a scientific laxative. We know of no remedy that combines these requirements better than Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which has been sold for a quarter of a century.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a laxative tonic, a scientific blending of natural ingredients for the cure of constipation, indigestion, liver trouble, sour stomach, sick headache and similar complaints. Its ingredients will strengthen and tone the stomach and bowels muscles so that they will again do their work naturally, and when that has been accomplished your trouble is over. Fannie Stuart, Staunton, Va., was a long-time sufferer, as was Dr. Tuck, Blackburn, Mo., and they both found their cure with this remedy. They became convinced that pills and tablets, salts, "dyspepsia cures," etc., were at best only temporary reliefs. They first accepted Dr. Caldwell's offer of a free sample bottle, which he willingly sends to anyone who forwards name and address. Later, having convinced themselves through the free sample, they bought Syrup Pepsin of their druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 621 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Collecting a Nickel.

The conductor looked worried and was in an ugly mood. He had been counting his cash, and it was evidently short, as his scowl deepened as he dropped it back in his pocket and glanced at the indicator.

Just then two workmen, one an Italian and the other an Irishman, boarded the car and found seats. The conductor called for the fare, and each man handed him a dime. He dropped them in his pocket, rung up and turned away without giving any change.

"I want a nickel," complained the Neapolitan.

"You've got your nickel. No more nickels for you. See?" and the conductor moved to the rear platform.

The Italian sat meekly in silence, but the Irishman employed different tactics. He went to the doorway.

"Gimme fivve cints change," said he to the conductor.

"You've got all the change you're going to get," was the retort.

"See here," exclaimed the Irishman, "you may play that chune on a hand organ, but you can't play it on a harp. Gimme fivve cints."

And he got it.

PEACE SOON IN PHILA. STRIKE

Only One Demand Blocks Settlement With Carmen.

CONFERENCES BEING HELD

Reinstatement of 173 Men Discharged For "Good of the Service" Demanded—Call Issued For State-Wide Strike on Monday.

Philadelphia, March 18.—Only one condition prevents the settlement of the car strike and the sympathetic strike in this city. That condition is the reinstatement without prejudice of the 173 motormen and conductors who were discharged by the Rapid Transit company for the good of the service, with the further guarantee of the company that these men will be given hearings individually and that causes will be produced in each case.

This condition blocked an agreement between the company and its men. Vice President Clarence Wolf, of the Rapid Transit company, who represents a majority of the board of directors, refused to grant the terms offered by Charles O. Pratt, leader of the strikers. Mr. Wolf maintains firmly that the company shall not be challenged in the right to hire and discharge workmen. Pratt contends that the right to hire or discharge is not attacked, but that the company's abuse of the right is the point at issue.

There were several conferences. At times the settlement seemed certain. But Mr. Wolf remained unmoved by appeals and insisted that the company could not stultify itself by re-employing the 173. Pratt, having been informed by E. E. Greenawalt, president of the State Federation of Labor, that a state-wide strike would be ordered for Monday, March 21, in case the company remained obdurate, pressed his demands with confidence. No other issue remained between the company and the men, but the one mentioned could not be got over.

State-Wide Strike Called.

As soon as Greenawalt was told that an agreement seemed unlikely he telegraphed orders to all of the unions affiliated with the State Federation of Labor to go on strike Monday next. The order advances the state sympathetic strike four days. The call originally named March 25.

The situation is briefly that unless Mr. Wolf is moved by strong influences he will stick to his colors and the state-wide strike will come. It is the factor that is moving the politicians to activity. It is the principal weapon left in the hands of the labor unions.

State Senator McNichol returned to Philadelphia after talking matters over in Washington with Senator Boies Penrose. Mr. McNichol brought a message from Penrose, but the word, whatever it was, was kept secret.

There will be further conferences between representatives of the carmen and those who are now acting for the Rapid Transit company. One of the suggestions for mediation that is now proposed is that Pratt, for the carmen, agree to the elimination of all motormen and conductors against whom intoxication or dishonesty can be proved; and that the company, through Mr. Wolf, agree to take back such as were discharged "for the good of the service." That phrase, the union men say, covers carmen who had been too active in union affairs to suit the company.

George H. Earle has been eliminated or has eliminated himself from the negotiations. Mr. Earle's action in taking the initiative in conferences with William D. Mahon and the accredited representatives of union labor, angered Senator Wolf and other members of the Rapid Transit board. They were swaying toward a settlement, but they took exception to being placed in the attitude of making overtures towards unionism. Their feelings accorded with the sentiments of large employers who wanted to fight it out.

Fighting was expected in Logan square, where Senator McNichol lives. Notice had been sent to the strikers that an open air meeting would be held in the square in front of McNichol's house. Superintendent of Police Taylor threw 250 policemen around the square and waited for things to happen.

Save for the people entering the Cathedral there was no crowd. At all times the police outnumbered the citizens in the square.

Flurries of Violence.
There were flurries of violence for the first time in several days. A new policeman was attacked by a crowd of young men at Girard avenue and Fifty-second street. They stripped off his uniform, threw his helmet into the mud, stuffed a gag into his mouth, bound him hand and foot and threw him into an alley. He was released half an hour later by passersby. Six men were arrested.

At Eighteenth and Wolf streets a car was attacked and a brick crashed into the front vestibule, narrowly missing the motorman and scattering glass over the passengers. The motorman jumped off the car, pistol in hand, and fired several shots at the crowd. They ran.

There was another row at Eighteenth and Porter street. Car windows were broken and passengers scared by brick throwing, but nobody was hurt.

WOULD KILL HIM AGAIN

Escaped Murderer Wishes Victim Would Come to Life Again.

New York, March 18.—After a terrific struggle in a street car on Ninth avenue, Alexander Devoe, murderer and escaped convict, was subdued by the pressure of a revolver muzzle on his temple and captured single-handed by Detective Muggs.

Devoe had gripped the trigger of his revolver, which was in his overcoat pocket, and he admits was about to shoot Muggs down, when the detective seized the desperate man's hand and brought his own weapon effectively into play.

Devoe escaped from Sing Sing prison on March 9, after he had served two years of a life sentence for the murder of "Lefty" Boyle. He was meek when he met Detective Jackson, from Sing Sing, at headquarters.

"I wanted to see the tenderloin again, but it's all up now," he said sadly. "I meant to get together some money and go far away, but I stayed here like a fool."

Devoe said he was glad that he had killed Boyle, who, he declared, "had a frame-up" to put him away. "He is dead now, but I wish he would come to life so I could kill him again," he added, vindictively.

MEDIATORS AT WORK

Martin Knapp and Commissioner Neill to Stop Firemen's Strike.

Chicago, March 18.—Chairman Martin Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission, and Commissioner of Labor Neill, after their arrival here to try to settle the dispute between the firemen and engineers and the western railroads, lost no time in getting to work.

They went at once into conference with labor officials and representatives of the interested railroads.

Railroad officials are hopeful that this intervention will result in a peaceful solution.

TROOPERS ATTACK STRIKERS' PICKETS

Frustrate Attempts to Intimidate Men at Work.

South Bethlehem, Pa., March 18.—It was learned from an authentic source that one of the speakers who addressed the Hungarian strikers at the Bethlehem Steel works, advised them to turn out between 4 and 5 o'clock in the morning with anything they found at their homes and to be ready to "give and receive" while doing picket duty in squads of a dozen or more.

In several instances this advice was carried out by the foreigners, but their efforts in intimidating men were frustrated by the state police, who happened to be out just as early as the strikers, and a number of the latter received pretty severe beatings from the state police.

Ethelbert Stewart, the special agent of the department of commerce and labor, who arrived here to investigate strike conditions, had his first conference with President C. M. Schwab and other officials of the company regarding working conditions. Later he attended the strikers' meeting. Chairman Williams urged the strikers to bring to the executive committee any case of fraud or graft in the steel works which could be substantiated. In order to have it presented to Commissioner Stewart.

A prominent leader among the strikers, it is said, has intimated that the strike may be settled at any time, and that there were certain things under way which the executive committee was not at liberty to make public.

Insurgents and Democrats Win First Skirmishes.

A TEST VOTE IS TAKEN

Majority of Fifteen Against Speaker of the House—Regular Republicans Filibustering to Save Off a Seat.

Washington, March 18.—Defeated time after time in succeeding votes, taken in a bitter parliamentary battle waged in the house for the overthrow of the power of Speaker Cannon, the regular Republicans found themselves engaged in a desperate filibuster to prevent a final vote and utter defeat. Calls for help for absent congressmen—absent on account of the St. Patrick's day celebration—were sent all over the east, and there is hope that enough absenters may be rounded up to turn the tide of victory from the combination of "insurgents" and Democrats and save the speaker's power.

First Victory For Insurgents.
By a vote of 147 to 132, the insurgent Republicans and Democrats defeated the motion of Representative Tawney, of Minnesota, to adjourn. The fight on the motion to oust Speaker Cannon from the committee on rules then was resumed.

The regular Republicans then began a filibuster. Roberts, of Massachusetts, made a point of no quorum, and Crumacker, of Indiana, demanded the yeas and nays on the call of the house. The Democrats and insurgents voted it down.

Encouraged by their repeated victories over the speaker and the regular Republicans of the house of representatives, the insurgents started an aggressive movement for a change in the rules of the house for the purpose of eliminating Speaker Cannon from the committee on rules and curtailing his power in legislative matters.

Without a note of warning that so radical a proposition would be brought up with the apparent support of a majority of the membership of the house, Representative Norris, of Nebraska, obtained the floor and offered a resolution for a change in the rules of the house.

Battle Sooner Than Expected.
For several months the insurgents had been looking forward to this culmination of their efforts to undermine or destroy the power of the speaker, but there had been little or no thought of any possibility that the battle for ascendancy would be fought so soon.

Mr. Norris insisted that the language of the constitution gave his measure the same privilege that Speaker Cannon had claimed for a resolution relating to the taking of the census. He asked that this resolution be placed before the house at once.

On both the Republican and Democratic sides nearly every member was in his place and all realized that at last the insurgents were looking horns with the regular Republicans for what might prove a death struggle. On both sides of the house the "whips" realized the necessity of obtaining their full voting strength, put in motion all their resources for the summoning of absent members.

Mr. Norris, whose seat is on the Democratic side of the chamber, appealed to the speaker for a ruling in favor of the immediate consideration of his resolution. He insisted that the time had come for action by the house, so that it might take into its own hands matters affecting legislation.

Democrats Aid Insurgents.
The attitude of the Democrats to ward the movement so suddenly put under way was made evident by the prompt endorsement of Mr. Norris' contentions by Mr. Underwood, of Alabama, and by Minority Leader Champ Clark, of Missouri.

Mr. Underwood insisted that the language of the constitution made the Nebraska resolution a matter of the highest privilege. Minority Leader Clark reminded the speaker that he had once said that the house could do anything it pleased, even to the election of a new speaker.

"The speaker has said that an elephant could be put through the house if the house so desired," shouted Mr. Clark.

"The speaker," retorted Mr. Cannon, who until now had watched the proceedings in silence, "would be prepared to rule on that question whenever any gentleman thinks that the minority has become the majority. But that presents an entirely different question from the one now before us."

Mr. Clark, opposing any suggestion that the resolution be referred to the committee on rules, declared that the committee, consisting of three Republicans, including the speaker, and two Democrats, could not be trusted with a measure curtailing its own powers. The Republican majority of one of that committee was as great as their majority in the house, "and," he added, amid laughter, "more reliable."

"If you want to change the rules," shouted Mr. Clark, looking over the house, "now is the accepted time."

When the applause had subsided Majority Leader Payne made a strong and feeling plea for "regularity."

Then followed charges and counter-charges concerning the methods of delay that were alleged to be responsible for the inability of members to get hearings on bills unless approved by the powers of the house.

The Germs which cause Quinsy reach the deeper seated tissues by absorption through the tonsils, causing the horribly painful inflammation which results in suppuration. Quinsy is simply a development of Sore Throat to which some people are peculiarly subject. With them, a tedious or neglected Sore Throat terminates in Quinsy. With them, a quickly cured Sore Throat means Quinsy avoided and nothing else cures Sore Throat as quickly and surely as TONSILINE.

Many such letters as below prove TONSILINE's value in preventing Quinsy. Gentlemen:—I have been subject to Quinsy for the last fifteen years and have simply had to suffer from ten days to two weeks with it at every attack, never having been able to find a preventive, until I commenced using TONSILINE. Up until a year ago I had had ten attacks of Quinsy, but have been able to avoid it twice since that time by the use of a 25 cent bottle of your remedy. Hoping that others similarly troubled will profit by my experience, and thanking you for what your TONSILINE has done for me, I remain, Yours very truly, E. T. KEENAN, Chief Clerk Auditor's Office, C. A. & C. Ry., Cleveland, Ohio.

Sufferers from Quinsy should always have TONSILINE ready for instant use on first sign of Sore Throat. 25c and 50c—all druggists. Tonsiline Co., Canton, Ohio.

Stomach Misery for Over Six Years

Read what Mr. Hoffman, landlord of the Webster Hotel, writes:
"I suffered misery and intense pains from stomach trouble for over six years, and all the doctoring that I did or medicines I used were of no avail until about two years ago, when I used a treatment of Mi-o-na. The first few days' treatment helped me greatly and, upon using it awhile I was made entirely free from any stomach trouble or complaint whatever. Since the cure by Mi-o-na I have regained my weight, I eat and sleep well, am never nervous, and my entire general health is much better."—Max M. Hoffman, Webster, N. Y., Aug. 2, 1909.
Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distress in five minutes. They act like magic. They are guaranteed to cure sour stomach, gas eructations, heartburn, dizziness, biliousness and nervousness, or money back. For sale by druggists everywhere and by People's Drug Store for 50 cents a large box.

Patriotic.
That Kentuckians have a very high regard for their native state is illustrated by this anecdote told by one of them:
Once a Kentuckian died, so a near relative went to the local tombstone artist to arrange about an inscription on the deceased's tombstone.
After due cogitation the near relative said:
"Carve on it, 'He's gone to a better place.'"
"I'll carve, 'He's gone to heaven, if you want me to," remarked the tombstone artist, "but, as for that other inscription, there's no better place than Kentucky."

Couldn't Ruin Their Eyes.
Sir Henry Holland, the noted English physician, had his studies interrupted by a youth who wanted advice. The young man, with considerable swagger, said he proposed locating in some town as an oculist. A city in which a large number of students were located was preferred. "There," he continued, "I would have unlimited opportunities of treating the eyes of overstudious scholars."
Dr. Holland was reluctant to have a community's eyes endangered because of his indorsement of a doubtful practitioner. He thought a few moments and then advised the ambitious oculist to locate in a small town near Liverpool, stating that a large school was located there.

The young man thanked the doctor. In a few days he reached the suggested field for his experiments. The large buildings in the distance indicated a magnificent school and splendid opportunities.

He investigated and collapsed. The school was one for the hopelessly blind.

Lively Cheese.
A young lady entered a grocer's shop in London and asked for some good cheese. The grocer showed her an assortment which did not please her. She wanted some particularly "lively" cheese. He then showed her the remainder of his stock, amounting to some half dozen samples. No, she wanted it still more "lively." At last the grocer, losing all patience, sarcastically called to his assistant:
"John, fetch me No. 7 and let it walk in."

The world may owe every man a living, but with prices of foodstuffs where they are the majority of us have to scratch good and lively if we elect not to starve.

FIRST ARTICLE.

WHAT shall we do to keep the boys on the farm? It requires one anxious sister who has seven daughters of marriageable age. The only way we know of, sister, is to hitch them to the hog house with a log chain. This is painful, but salutary, and is calculated to inspire respect for parental authority.

No self-respecting farmer will allow a bow-legged, squat nosed, short tailed asthmatic rooster to wake him every HITCH THEM TO THE day at 3 a. m. HOG HOUSE. With a high gear crow. There is no necessity of it. Just pipe the rooster's crow through a four inch exhaust pipe and run it underground into your neighbor's back yard.

Never allow the hired man to read Shakespeare or Carlyle while riding the corn cultivator. We knew a hired hand who devoured Emerson's "Essays" while thus engaged, and he became so absorbed that the team backed him into a barbed wire fence, ripping the lining from his abdominal cavity.

A balky horse is a trial in the home. Many cases are incurable, while others yield to mild and humane treatment, such as kicking the animal in the pit of the stomach with a hobnailed boot, tickling his nostrils with a crowbar, stroking him gently over the ears with an elm club, etc. The best way, however, is to sit quietly in the buggy and read extracts from the book of Job while waiting for the balkee to shoot the chutes.

The average so called hog cholera cure is a rank fraud, designed merely to separate the farmer from his milk check. We have placed on the market the only genuine cholera cure in existence. Here is the prescription: First lay the hog gently on his back in the front parlor and spray his stomach with iced tea. This provokes a consuming thirst on the part of the cholera germs, causing them to rise to the SPRAY HIS STOMACH WITH ICED TEA. surface, when they can be easily removed with a pair of pliers. This treatment is good only during the dog days, for cholera germs have no thirst during the winter months.

After the boy has worked on the farm all summer for his board and overalls hand him 20 cents in currency and send him to the county fair for an outing. The average boy can have a regular Fourth of July celebration on 20 cents, and your generosity will endear him to the farm and give him a broad, liberal outlook on life.

Constant Reader wants to know if there is any way to keep a sucking calf quiet while teaching her how to drink skim-milk from a ten quart pail. The remedy is very simple: Grasp the calf firmly by the tail and nostrils, turn her face toward the setting sun and hit her twice in succession in the back of the head with the setting of a meat ax. This treatment has never been known to fail since Adam.

TURN HER FACE TO- of the head with the setting of a meat ax. This treatment has never been known to fail since Adam.

Don't stick up your nose at the King drag. It will make a sour road look sweet in less time than any other device known to man. The only objection to it is that it is too darned simple. It ought to have three or four fly-wheels, fifty or sixty cogs and a few hundred coil springs attached to it. Then if $285 f. o. b. Chicago were charged for it it might come into general use.

eral use. As it is, it is handicapped by cheapness. Nobody wants a road drag which costs only a few boards off the back fence, a bolt or two from the windmill and a fistful of skinned knuckles.

Why not brighten up the henbenny with those lace curtains that have seen better days?

Now is a good time to look over the calves' heads for warts. If there is no corn doctor in the neighborhood remove the warts with a draw-shave, beginning at the southwest corner of the wart and working due east. If the calf is inclined to be restive under this treatment, soothe her with an ax helve laid firmly across the nose. If she REMOVED THE WARTS from WITH A DRAWSHAVE. this treatment she will live to be eighty years old.

clergyman friend, who said that the children could use his caboose as a step ladder, and inside of a week the animal had scattered a large and growing family over a rock crushed road two and a half miles long. We would sooner trust our anatomy to the tender mercies of a drunken corn shredder than face the rotary action of a sleepy eyed mule which was once a member of a preacher's family. Despite the fact that the average preacher doesn't know a jack from a jackpot, we notice that when it comes to a horse trade he can paint rings around any other class of our citizenship.

The practice of dehorning as usually carried out is needlessly cruel. The best method is to have the horns extracted by a painless dentist, who will draw them while you wait at $1 per horn. The heifer which has inhaled a couple of bags of laughing gas while in the dentist chair will never kick anybody's front teeth loose again.

Every farmer ought to have a strop for his disk harrow. It is neat and inexpensive and when hung in the parlor makes a nice ornament. We advise against the use of the self stroping harrow. It is not practical and is liable to bleed the hired man when in perfect health.

The colt which persists in kicking the hind quarters off its mother every day or two should be curried with a 2 by 12 scantling applied across the posterior organism before every meal. A kicking colt can drive more men to the nearest saloon in passing a given point than any other article of furniture on the farm.

One of our CURRIED WITH A 2 BY 12 SCANTLING. ask if anything can be done with the voice of the female guinea hen. We think not, brother. It is as hopeless a proposition as the amateur tenor and just about as musical. The best treatment is to extract the voice with a bread knife and a pair of pipe tongs. When this is done thoroughly the voice rarely comes back.

Here is a little item which is worthy of consideration if you are fattening cattle for market: Just before weighing in feed a generous quantity of yeast foam and dried apples. Be careful not to overdo it, or the buyer may think you have been entertaining an epidemic of dropsy.

Thin Folks Made Fat

The Way Samose Works Its Wonders—Guaranteed by L. M. Buehler.

Physicians and chemists for years have studied the problem of making a flesh-forming food, but it is only within the last few months that a bright man discovered the prescription that taken with the daily meals gave a positive increase in flesh. In fact it was so certain in its action that a guarantee was attached to each package stating that if weight did not increase as a result of using it, the purchase price would be refunded.

This preparation is now put up in convenient form for use under the name of Samose.

Taken with each meal, it enables the food you eat to assimilate with the system and that in connection with its own flesh-forming and tissue building foods gives healthy flesh.

L. M. Buehler has secured the agency in Gettysburg for Samose, and as the percentage of satisfactory results from the use of this prescription is so nearly one hundred per cent he feels there is no risk in offering to refund the money if Samose does not do all that is claimed for it.

FEATHERS AND EGGSHELLS.
Szabadka, Hungary, has a fattening and cold storage plant with a capacity for 100,000 chickens, 30,000 geese, 20,000 ducks and 15,000 turkeys.

My friend, when you wrote for prices on a pure bred rooster and a dozen hens and expected to get them for $10 did you consider the market prices of poultry and eggs, not speaking of the cost and care to produce pure bred stock?

A cock's comb seldom freezes in a house where there are no drafts, even at 10 degrees below zero, but with the thermometer at that notch let a draft or cold wind hit him and his headgear is spoiled.

A Winsted (Conn.) genius takes the biscuit for a novel way to notify neighbors to keep their chickens at home. He tied corn to the end of strings and notices to the other. The trespassing roosters, swallowed the corn and cord up to the tags and then rushed home to their owners with the trespass notice in full view. A great scheme. Try it.

"One satisfied customer sends us others" is a truth every merchant, whether he sells chickens or boots, should learn. The only way to get trade, hold trade and increase trade is to advertise well what we have to sell, to tell no lies when we advertise and to practice no robbery, jobbery or snobbery.

We are most pleased when customers visit our plant and inspect our stock. Nearly all such pay on sight, then write later, to our delight. "The birds you shipped are just all right."

We have lots of such trade. How do we get it? We get most of it by advertising in the town and nearby newspapers.

Advertising pays the man who advertises good stock in a good medium and makes good to his customers. Advertising mediums are morally good, better, best, and your town paper is the latter. Have your ad inserted on the page beside "Poultry Notes," and our hen tales will help make hen sales.

It took one-quarter of a ton of coal to hatch 5,000 eggs in a big incubator in a New York plant. They did not allow the heat damper to blow all the time, like the boys who waste that much oil on a small hatch.

THE PEOPLE ARE AROUSED

They No Longer Doubt—Testimonials Are Useless.

The Root Juice people came here to prove reports that were circulating over the country in relation to the many remarkable cures the great remedy was making. Hundreds of people that heard of the remedy crowded into the drug store and bought some of it, and after taking it a short while many returned for more and urged their friends to try it. Many local testimonials were published in this paper until it became useless, as so many of this city knew of many cures it has made and is making. It has certainly proved to be the greatest remedy known for the stomach, liver, kidneys and blood. It is remarkable the way it heals the stomach and bowels and gives strength to the liver and kidneys. Out of all of the hundreds that gave this remedy a fair trial at this point, not a single one has been heard to condemn it, but on the contrary, many who suffered for years with indigestion, chronic constipation, rheumatism, and various kidney complaints, after taking a few bottles of the Juice, claim a positive cure. So the great remedy does not merely patch. IT CURES. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle, six bottles for $5, at the People's drug store.
